

DECCAN Chronicle

Wednesday, July 27th, 2011

Have

YOUR SAY

There was much drama and history attached to the ongoing India-England test. Now that India has lost the first test, what are your expectations?

According to me, this is going to be England's time to rejoice. I have a gut feeling that they will win the series. One of the reasons is that apart from Tendulkar and Dravid, there are more younger players touring and India's not comfortable on a bouncy pitch.

Arjun Chopra,
CMS College

